The medicinal value of silver now and in ancient time

According to Chinese records, when Emperor Shi Zhong inflicted the eye disease, the imperial court doctor prescribed medicines that contain silver to cure his eye disease. The pupa of cicada that have amazing effect on diabetes and boost one sex drive and the leave it feed on (mulberry leave) have a high content of silver. Li Ming Lai, a well known Korean doctor in ancient time used silver in his prescriptions to treat people who suffer from piles.

Emperors of the world in ancient time kept food and drink in pure silver ware as it can sterilize to kill the germs in it. Ancient Macedonian used silver to cover wounds to speed up the healing process. In the American Wild West, the pioneers in those days put the silver coin in bucket to keep the milk fresh. In Chinese Imperial court, silver necklace was used in the preparation of medicines.

The Chinese ancient medical book Pen Cao Kang Mu also recorded the overall medicinal value of silver: good for the well being of the body, pharmaceutical effect on internal organs, remove toxins from body, lowering of fats and good for longevity. Many water purifying machines use silver to keep water free from bacteria.

It is used in water purifying system in NASA, it is also used in the purifying of water on board of Boeing airplanes. It is used in Swiss Water Purification system; it is also used in Netherlands National water Purification System. Qing Hua Yuan Sing Biopharmaceutical Company, a subsidiary under Qing Hua University equipped with the latest technology, has came up with Nano Silver which can treat various women's diseases and also Nano Silver Plaster which can curb breeding of bacteria.

Colloidal Silver – an achievement in the latest Nano Technology

Colloidal Silver, the end product when 99.99% pure silver is decomposed into nano particles through a physical process, is an odourless, colourless clear liquid that will not stick together or settle down. The size of Colloidal Silver particle is about 5 – 15 nano, 500 – 1000 times smaller than the most minute red cell, it can be readily absorbed by the body like a sponge. The process, most scientists agree is the most appropriate method to use silver.

The advent of nano technology in the 20th century has greatly pushed the effectiveness of silver in fighting bacteria to a higher level. As nano silver particle (like Colloidal Silver) has an obvious effect on bacteria, it is said its effectiveness is much better than the conventional Silver ion. Comparatively, it is 200 times better than the minute silver particle. The most recent research and clinical proof have shown that silver can deal with golden staphylococcus, white coloured candida etc.

The body can take in Colloidal Silver without trouble, and is readily carried by the body liquid to other parts of the organs. If our body can maintain 5 – 7 part of colloidal silver, then our body can fight various virus, fungus and bacteria with ease, it is akin our body has a second immune system. In addition to that, it can also reduce virus produced by the activities of bacteria. This second immune system is parallel to our natural immune system, and it can fight most contagious and infectious diseases.

Test in blood

Before taking Colloidal Silver, red cells stay close together in a line formation, and obviously you cannot find any active enzyme.

After taking Colloidal Silver, red cells start to disperse, and you can see active enzyme in action.

Things you should know when using Colloidal Silver

1. When using it

- a. Keep Colloidal Silver in the mouth for 3 – 5 minutes before swallows it, this is because the bountiful blood vessel under the mucous of the tongue will facilitate the absorption of Colloidal Silver by the blood, and thus you would see the results sooner.
- b. The quantity consumed must be moderate. For the first three days, consume as recommended (three times a day, each time 60ml), and increase the amount gradually after that. Some would encounter uneasiness if overdose at first few days, for example nausea, giddiness, muscles pain. Once reduced, the symptoms will go away.
- c. External use: Spray on affected parts and spray again twice before the moisture dry up. For best results, keep the skin moisturized for 5 minutes.
- d. Do not heat up or keep Colloidal Silver in metal container. (Keep in the brown mug for better storage and in a cool dry place.

2. Detoxification signs in the initial stage

- a. Some may experience diarrhea and bloated stomach for the first 2 – 4 days.
- b. The frequency of urine may increase and with stronger smell, and some may see their urine turn darker.
- c. Some people who have toxins in their blood or skin, rashes may appear on the skin accompanying with itchiness after taking Colloidal Silver for 7 – 20 days. However the rashes will disappear after a week. For serious cases, the rashes may appear a few times.

3. Good signs

- a. High Blood Pressure: Some patients with high blood pressure may experience their blood pressure rise 10 – 15mm in 2 – 7 days. However, it will go down after 10 – 15 days.
- b. Stomach ulcer: Some may experience stomach ache and bloat after taking Colloidal Silver for the first 1 – 3 days. The symptoms will go away after 3 – 7 days.
- c. Acne: The condition of some people may turn serious after taking Colloidal Silver, but it will disappear after a week.
- d. Piles: the condition may turn serious initially, and in some cases it may last 15 – 20 days.
- e. It has been proven clinically that it is good for people with diabetes and prostatitis.
- f. For people who are allergy to drugs, their condition will improve after taking Colloidal Silver.
